

Australian Style Catch Monitoring Tag

Instructions

One method and location to apply the tag is shown in the pictures below. This method and location is widely used by Australian farm companies. Please note that the Australian Southern Bluefin Tuna Industry Associated takes no responsibility for any workplace injury or market loss that may be claimed as a result from using this method of attaching the tag.

If anyone requires an applicator, the one shown below is the “Leader Multitag Applicator”.

Members using Australian style tags are encouraged to attach tags at the anal fin, not at the gill cover, to ensure ease of reading the information on the tag (only for fresh SBT. Please see below).
